The Week Ahead

Good afternoon! I hope our BIS students had a wonderful and restful week off. It's hard to believe, but the fourth quarter begins tomorrow...we are officially in the final stretch of the school year!

The last 39 days will be full of new opportunities for our students, including special events, state testing, and a few more field trips. As things begin to pick up, please keep an eye on ClassDojo for updates from your child's teacher, and take a few moments each week to read our newsletter carefully. We will also continue to share information about spring and summer extracurricular opportunities as they are provided by our community partners. Past weekly newsletters are housed on the BIS webpage under "Weekly Announcements".
